

EducArts!

Educate in Human Rights through the Arts

Project Objective

The main objective is to foster citizens' understanding of their fundamental rights, Europe's common values and our common cultural wealth, thereby encouraging democratic participation across the Union in the unpredictable post-COVID context.

Other specific objectives are:

- ✓ Improve the skills of teachers in adult centres, educators, as well as tutors, trainers, mentors, coaches or monitors of Civil Society Organisations involved in the field of lifelong learning, by using audiovisual narratives and creative-artistic methods as a means of reinforcing learner's motivation and transmission of positive values.
- ✓ Improve the availability of non-formal and informal learning opportunities for adults through the development of creative, artistic and cultural competencies.
- ✓ Develop new ways of access and increase the acceptance of education in values for citizens, especially groups at risk of social exclusion, through the use of innovative and participatory teaching methods based on participatory co-creation and creativity.
- ✓ Promote creative laboratories in local community spaces that promote citizen participation, social inclusion and lifelong learning through the promotion of culture and arts.
- ✓ Spread the Erasmus spirit among all citizens and generations, especially among young people and creatives, as a way of exchanging experiences to express their European identity and feelings of belonging in terms of common values, helping to build and strengthen the ties of solidarity between European communities.

Results

Deliverables

Regarding the expected tangible results, we'll have:

- Educators' Manual, is a basic guide that includes a framework of competence and skills necessary for the teacher, explains what the EducArts!, pedagogical methodology consists of, and which develops some light guidelines to follow to implement an EducArts! Lab in the organisation or educational centre.
- Tool-Kit / Educators Guide, is a set of tools to support the educator that includes all the material of interest generated in the project, as well as access to Open Educational Resources of interest for use in the EducArts! Lab.
- Logbooks, is a set of tools to build your logbook EducArts! This serves the learners to note down their impressions, comments and suggestions related to a specific art sample, or even to add their art creative works and logbooks related.
- Video of the project "Building ArtScenarios".

Outcomes

Regarding some of the intangible results we'll hope to have with this project are:

- Highlight the common positive values of the EU on which to base the future of our life and that of others, and to do so through collaboration between educators and citizens, cultural institutions and educational entities, organizations from different countries, all with the same spirit: to achieve a stronger and more united Europe.
- Improve democratic education by using narratives based on art and creativity as an attractive means of spreading values beyond borders.
- Stimulate lifelong learning on issues related to human rights and common European values at the local level and provide socio-cultural skills that allow greater participation of citizens in democratic debate and decision-making.
- Improving the skills of teachers in adult centres, educators, as well as tutors, trainers, mentors, coaches or monitors of Civil Society Organisations involved in the field of lifelong learning, by using audiovisual narratives and creative-artistic methods as a means of reinforcing learner's motivation and transmission of positive values.
- Improving learners' skills in lifelong learning of democratic education and human rights as a means to overcome the adversity of crises that arise in our society.
